SOURCE American observer from Tokyo resident

During CHIANG Ch'un's (1728/5028) recent visit to Japan,¹ he conferred with HATTORI Takushiro (2591/6752/0587/0934/6745)² on ten different occasions. The following were the three principal subjects of discussion:

- a. Integration of the Third Force into CHIANG Kai-shek's forces, without whose support China cannot be liberated.
- b. Possible "utilization" of the secret military alliance which CHIANG said existed between the United States and the Chinese Nationalist Government.³
- c. A possible conference on Taiwan between HATTORI and CHIANG Kai-shek.

1. Field Comment. CHIANG Ch'un visited Japan from July to late November 1952.

2. Field Comment. ZJJ-84 contains biographic information on HATTORI. His activities are also mentioned in ZJJ-287 and numerous earlier reports.

3. Field Comment. The source believes that the "secret military alliance" was invented as bait to win the support of Japanese military men.
